

7 NETWORKING TIPS & PLACES

We often forget that the opportunities to network are present and happen more frequently than what we think; it's something that's always happening. The single fact of establishing a conversation with just one person, can lead to something great!

But if we are too busy between work and our personal lives to meet new people or catch up with those we don't so often see so much, we have to find the places or moments that will lead to networking.

Such can be:

Just remember that it's not enough to attend these events if you are too shy to move around. That would be the same as if wouldn't have gone anyway. Try your best to be noticed and be sure that you will gain something out of it.

Based on Afraid Of Networking? Tips To Make It Fun And Worthwhile

By Lisa Quast

