

Wing to Wing Women's Mentoring Project

(Website) provides tips for being a mentor and partner and a list of benefits for each as stated by participants in mentoring relationships. The website provides stories told by women about the power of mentoring. The project was designed to encourage women to become involved in mentoring, and their main activities are providing training events and personal and career coaching for women. The site also offers a an excellent 13-page, no-cost Mentoring Guide.
